ROBERTS CASE BOBS UP IN HOUSE.

Consideration of the Matter Deferred Until After the Reading of the President's Message—Henderson Installed—Senate Proceedings.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The opening of the Fifty-sixth congress attracted that widespread attention which always attaches to the annual assemblage of the national lawmakers. There was added interest in the event this year, for the many far-reaching questions awaiting consideration gave unusual importance to the return of congress. Aside from this, the Roberts case introduced the phase which promised something outside of the ordinary developments of an opening day.

Early in the day the throngs began converging at the capitol. The day was bright and propitious, and the thoroughfares leading to the building presented a gay and animated appearance. Within the building all was bustle and excitement long before the hour, for calling the house to order.

Shortly before 11 o'clock Mr. Roberts of Utah, in silk hat and black frock suit, made his way through the crowd to the members' private lobby. Here he chanced to meet Mr. Richardson, and the two held a short conference as to whether Mr. Roberts would seek to address the house. A buzz of comment followed the gentlemen from Utah wherever he went, but there was no disrespectful demonstration.

Very early in the day a monster petition, said to consist of 7,000,000 names, protesting against the seating of Mr. Roberts, was brought into the hall. It had been collected by a New York newspaper.

At noon the clerk of the last house, Major McDowell, used the gavel. The members arose and the spectators in the galleries bowed their heads. In this stillness the voice of the blind chaplain, Rev. Henry Couden of Michigan, was elevated, and his prayer made the occasion reverent.

When the rollcall was concluded, Clerk McDowell announced that 352 members had answered to their names, a quorum. "The next thing in order," announced the clerk, "is the election of a speaker."

Mr. Hepburn of Iowa offered a resolution, which was adopted viva voce, providing that the house proceed to the election of a speaker for the Fifty-sixth congress.

Election of Speaker.

Thereupon Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio, as chairman of the Republican caucus, presented the name of David B. Henderson of Iowa. The mention of the name of General Henderson was greeted with a round of applause from the Republican side. Mr. Hay of Virginia, chairman of the Democratic caucus, nominated James D. Richardson of Tennessee, and his name drew the plaudits of the Democratic side. Mr. Ridgeley of Kansas nominated John C. Bell of Colorado as the Populist candidate, and Mr. Wilson of Idaho placed Francis G. Newlands of Nevada in nomination as the candidate of the Silver party.

The rollcall resulted: Henderson, 177; Richardson, 153; Bell, 4, and Newlands, 2.

The clerk thereupon announced the election of Mr. Henderson amid great Republican applause. He designated Mr. Richardson, Mr. Bell and Mr. Newlands as a committee to escort the speaker to the chair.

Mr. Henderson, after a graceful speech thanking the members and promising impartiality in his rulings, took the oath of office.

The speaker then announced the oath would be administered to the members by states. As the names by members were called they appeared at the bar in groups of about a dozen and there, with raised hands, were sworn in by the speaker.

When the name of Brigham H. Roberts was reached in the house rollcall, the Utah member-elect proceeded alone to the area in front of the speaker's desk and awaited the administration of the oath. At the same time Representative Taylor of Ohio secured recognition, and amidst breathless interest protested against the swearing in of Roberts, on the ground of his being a polygamist and not a properly naturalized American citizen. Mr. Taylor spoke calmly and dispassionately. Mr. Roberts stood gazing intently at him, and not once moved a muscle throughout the protest.

Representative McRae (Ark.) followed with a protest from the Democratic side, saying this is a question involving the sacredness of American home, a sentiment that brought an outburst of applause.

Speaker Henderson addressed Roberts, saying: "Will the gentleman stand aside until the rollcall is completed?" Mr. Roberts assented, with the statement that in so doing he waived none of his rights. "I can assure the gentleman," added the speaker, "that he waives none of his rights by this course."

Mr. Roberts then resumed his seat and the rollcall proceeded. It was agreed by unanimous consent that the consideration of the resolution should go over until Tuesday, until after the reading of the president's message. The swearing in of the remaining members was then concluded. The officers of the house, Clerk McDowell of Pennsylvania, Sergeant-at-Arms Casen of Wisconsin; Doorkeeper Gleen of New York and Postmaster McElroy of Ohio, were elected. The usual resolutions to inform the president and the senate that the house was organized were adopted.

The financial bill drafted by a committee of Republican members was introduced in the house by Representative Overstreet of Indiana. The text is as given out last week, and members say this will be preserved as far as possible.

IN THE SENATE.

New Faces, Protest Against Quay and Adjournment.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Promptly at 12 o'clock noon Mr. Frye of Maine, president pro tem called the senate to order. The blind chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Milburn, pronounced the invocation, making a beautiful, touching reference to the death of Vice President Hobart.

Mr. Bacon (Ga.) was the first member to be recognized by the chair. He presented, on behalf of Mr. Mallory (Fla.), who was detained from the session by illness, the credentials of Senator-elect Taliaferro of Florida. They were filed.

Mr. Penrose (Pa.) presented the credentials of Matthew Stanley Quay, appointed senator from Pennsylvania by the governor. On motion of Mr. Cockrell (Mo.) the credentials of Mr. Quay were referred to the committee on privileges and elections. In this connection Mr. Chandler (N. H.) offered a resolution that Senator Quay be admitted as a senator from Pennsylvania. This resolution also went to the committee on privileges and elections. Remonstrances and memorials against the seating of Mr. Quay were presented by Mr. Burrows (R., Mich.) and Mr. Jones (D., Ark.).

The credentials of Mr. Hayward of Nebraska were presented, and subsequently the announcement was made by Mr. Thurston (Neb.) that owing to critical illness Mr. Hayward was unable to be present. By direction of the chair, the new senators were then presented at the secretary's desk, where the oath of office was administered to them by the president pro tem.

Mr. Carter (Mont.) presented a memorial and protest against the seating of Senator-elect Clark of Montana, and also a petition from the governor and other prominent citizens of Montana asking for an early hearing of the protest against Mr. Clark. The entire matter was referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

Mr. Sewell (N. J.) then announced the death of Vice President Hobart and offered the following resolution: "Resolved, That the senate has received with the deepest regret information of the death of Garrett Augustus Hobart, late vice president of the United States; that the business of the senate be suspended, in order that the distinguished public services of the deceased and the virtues of his private character may be fittingly commemorated."

Mr. Sewell announced that at some suitable future date he would call up the resolution, when an opportunity would be afforded senators to pay their tributes to the late vice president.

Mr. Kean (N. J.), at 12:33 p. m., moved, as a further mark of respect, that the senate adjourn, and amid a deep silence the chair declared the motion carried.

Circleville, O., Dec. 4.—The large stable of Joseph S. Smith, about a mile east of town, was completely destroyed by fire along with eight head of horses. The stable also contained a buggy, wagon and a lot of farming implements. Loss, $4,000.

English Ranks Were Withered on Modder's Banks.

STORY OF THE BIG BATTLE.

Firing of the Entrenched Boers Described as "Horribly" Accurate.

RESULT NOW REPORTED INDECISIVE.

Fight Waged For Fourteen Hours, the Burghers Retreating During the Night—Kimberley, Mafeking and Ladysmith in Desperate Straits.

London, Dec. 4.—The later details received from Modder river seem to show that even the desperate courage the attacking force displayed all day long (Nov. 28) failed to drive the Boers from their strong entrenchments, and night fell on an undecided battle. But apparently, during the course of the night, General Cronje, commanding the Boers, who are said to have numbered 11,000 men, decided that the struggle was hopeless, for the British found the town and surrounding positions evacuated when daylight broke, and the whole British army crossed the river and encamped on the Boer positions.

The experts here are unanimous in expressing the opinion that Kimberley's needs must be very pressing to induce General Methuen to expose the whole of his command to the Boer marksmen, snugly entrenched in a semi-circular position. So deadly was the fire zone, that the Scots Guards were compelled to leave their Maxim guns behind when they were forced to seek less exposed ground. It was only after dusk that a portion of the British troops succeeded in crossing the river by a mill dam on the extreme left. When night fell, the Boer artillery fire was still as vigorous and damaging, but the Boers' retiring saved the day for the British. The exhausted condition of the British troops precluded the possibility of a pursuit of the enemy.

The conclusion of the correspondents that the Boers must have suffered heavily must be confirmed from official sources before it is accepted as fact. In any case, the Boers retired without any sign of disorder, carrying off their guns and equipment. Thus, General Cronje's force is still intact. The fact that General Methuen and Colonel Kekewich are now in communication may cause a reconsideration of the Boer commander's plan to give battle at Spytfontein, where he might be simultaneously attacked by both British forces.

It is reported that Modder river bridge has been repaired, and that the British resumed their march towards Kimberley.

The fact that the De Beeres mines foundry is casting shells, while the garrison seldom replies to the Boers' artillery is said to point to a scarcity of ammunition at Kimberley, partially accounting for General Methuen's haste.

All the news from Natal emphasizes the difficulties before General Clery. There is growing a belief that some delicate flanking operation has been entrusted to some tactician, while General Hildyard carries out the direct front demonstration.

The latest advices from Ladysmith, dated Saturday, Nov. 25, say the shelling of that place was continued. All accounts agree that the Boer shells were much more damaging than previously reported.

A number of civilians and police were killed or wounded, while the Liverpool and Gloucester battalions lost 11 men on Nov. 24.

The siege of Ladysmith was then growing stronger. The Boers were estimated to number from 10,000 to 15,000 men. The health of the British garrison was good. The Boer force at Colenso is estimated to be 15,000 men, with 15 guns. General Joubert is in command.

BRITISH MOWED DOWN.

First Story of the Bloody Battle On Modder River.

London, Dec. 4.—The following is a dispatch from a London newspaper correspondent at Modder river camp: "The severest engagement our column has yet had, and probably the severest of the whole campaign, was fought on the banks of the Modder river. The battle was waged fiercely for nearly 14 hours.

"The enemy occupied a strongly entrenched position, their front extending five miles along the bank of the stream. They were well supplied with artillery and fought desperately.

"The battle started at daybreak, our guns shelling the Boer's left. The enemy replied with artillery, Hotchkiss and Maxims, and the artillery duel lasted some hours. Then there was a brief lull in the enemy's operation, of which the general immediately took advantage. Our infantry moved across the plain towards the river in two brigades. The Guards on the right were met by an awful hail of bullets from the enemy's sharpshooters, posted close to the river on the opposite bank. Ours had no cover whatever and were simply mowed down. It seemed impossible to live through the terrible fire, but the brave fellows did not retreat an inch. The Boer fire was horribly accurate, and they must have numbered at least 10,000.

"The Scots Guards advanced 600 yards before they were fired on. Then they had to lie down to escape the deadly fusillade, which lasted without intermission throughout the day.

"The Highlanders made several attempts to force a passage of the river, but they were exposed to such a murderous enfilading fire that they had to retire after they had suffered terribly.

"Subsequently a party of Guards got over and held their own for hours against a vastly superior force.

"The general opinion of the staff is that there had never been a sustained fire in the annals of the British army as that which our troops had to face. Our men fell in dozens while trying to rush the bridge.

"The British guns kept up a heavy fire all day, and fearful havoc was wrought on the Boer positions, the enemy being forced to fly from their entrenchments. Night put an end to the terrible bloodshed. The infantry brigade was dreadfully cut up.

"The Boers retreated at night, taking their guns with them, and we are now occupying their positions. The enemy's loss was tremendous."

A Dublin correspondent declares that "owing to startling information as to the existence of a dynamite conspiracy in order to quicken the flow of Boer subscriptions, the executive has decided to double the guards at all the military barracks in the district."

Choate on the "Alliance."

London, Dec. 4.—Hon. Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, it is claimed, was not only unaware of the tenor of the speech delivered by Joseph Chamberlain at Leicester Nov. 30, when he himself was speaking at the American Thanksgiving banquet in London, but was also ignorant of the fact that the secretary for the colonies was making any speech the same day. While refusing to express an opinion on Mr. Chamberlain's speech, Mr. Choate drew attention to his own speech, which included the statement that he believed the watchword of the United States was still "no entangling alliances."

Young Hay's Appointment.

London, Dec. 4.—The afternoon newspapers welcome the appointment of Adelbert E. Hay as United States consul at Pretoria. The Westminster Gazette says: "If Mr. Chamberlain is speaking today he will undoubtedly turn to Mr. Hay's appointment as convincing proof that an alliance exists. We do not make such a sweeping declaration. It suffices to say it is pleasant to think our interests are represented by one whose representations can hardly fail to be received with consideration by the Transvaal."

Paris, Dec. 4.—The committee formed by the new Panama Canal company has just published a report on the visit made by the delegates of the company to the isthmus, where they inspected the canal works and on the best way to finish the work begun. The report makes a comparison between the Panama and Nicaraguan routes, and says: "The Nicaraguan Canal would pass right through a volcanic district. Earthquakes are frequent in the neighborhood, and have several times destroyed the cities of Leon and Grenada." The report says works and material handed over by the old Panama company are in a good state of preservation.

Vessels Ashore.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 4.—Unusually cold weather and heavy gales are reported from New Zealand. During a storm in November the ship Pleiades went ashore on the New Zealand coast. Her officers and crew were saved, but the ship could not be removed from the rocks, on which she is now resting high and dry. During the same gale the steam collier Hesketh went ashore at the Greymouth bar, where also the Wapowicka was recently stranded.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR KENTUCKY—Fair to-night and Wednesday; warmer Wednesday.

REPUBLICAN journals have much to say about "Kentucky's peril from bossism." Is Boss Hanna reaching out after this State, too?

An independent tin-plate manufacturer has given the Industrial Commission some interesting figures showing how those "beneficent" concerns, the trusts, are operated for the benefit of the people. He said since the tin-plate trust had been organized the price of tin-plate had advanced from $2.60 to $4.65 per hundred; that neither the advance in wages or raw material justified such a price. At $2.50 a hundred there had been 20 per cent. profit in the business; under present conditions $3.84 would be a profitable price.

VOICE RESTORED

When She Was Suddenly Apprised of a Sister's Death.

RIPLEY, OHIO, December 3.—About five years ago Miss Laura Wylie, formerly of Kentucky, and now residing in East Ripley, entirely lost her power of speech. Simultaneously her physical health declined. Mrs. Clay Heck was her sister, and lived near the Yeaton homestead, where Miss Wylie was then and is now making her home. Mrs. Heck was afflicted with heart trouble, but was not considered to be in a dangerous condition. She died suddenly, and a thoughtless neighbor rushed over to Miss Wylie and abruptly exclaimed: "Laura, your sister is dead!"

The sudden fright immediately enabled the young lady to talk distinctly, and since then her voice and pronunciation have been perfect.

A striking feature of the strange recovery is that her health became better immediately.

My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." The saloon license of Fred Fox was transferred to Simon M. Crowell.

The following communication was read:

To the President and Members of Maysville City Council: The ladies of the Library Association after exhausting every means of establishing a library by public subscription, have resolved to appeal to your honorable body before relinquishing all hope of securing for our city an institution so far reaching in its moral and intellectual influence. By the sale of annual tickets at $1, the same, to privilege holders to all library advantages, we hoped to realize sufficient for at least a small beginning, but, beset by obstacles many public enterprises encounter, we succeeded in raising only $200.

Current opinion places us in opposition to existing institutions, than which nothing is farther from truth. We are opposed to no society, antagonistic to no individual. We stand solely for a library unheeded by rulings that can possibly restrict its administration for the public convenience. That is our creed. Does it express opposition to any institution, to any one, to any?

Gentlemen, will you help us? We say will advisedly, knowing you can, if inclination rule the majority. We do not seek personal favors, nor privileges for a day, a year, a generation. We ask for what your children's children can enjoy. Nor is there space limit—not advantage for one ward we request, but a good that will penetrate every part of the town and reach to the boundaries of the county.

Why should Maysville be less advanced than sister cities no larger, nor richer? Pride in our town, interest in our children, entertainment for the stranger within our gates, moral improvement, intellectual progression suggest this need.

Will you assist our efforts by an appropriation of $500 per annum, the money supplemented by that accruing from the sale of annual tickets, to be used in the establishment and maintenance of a public library in Maysville? The administration of said library and the expenditure of the proposed appropriation of course subject to further consideration. Members of Library League:

Christmas Gift Sense!

Is in buying something people want, not useless decorative flitter that appeals neither to good taste nor judgment.

DRESS GOODS.—For gifts it will tend to a merry Christmas, for the recipients will bless the common-sense thoughtfulness that suggested a dress pattern. Venetian, the pretty cousin of broadcloth, 54 in. wide, $1, $1.25. Plaids for waists, skirts, children's gowns. In Zibiline effect, $1.25, $1.50, $2. Other sorts 25c. to 75c. A special Christmas price on one line of Black Crepons, $1.95 instead of $2.50.

FOR HIM.—This is a age of advancement. Mothers, wives, sisters have learned to buy "him" something he wants. Below is a list of men's needfuls: Silk Handkerchief, 50c.; black socks, Peerless, neatly boxed, 4 pairs for $1; Umbrellas, superb qualities, heavy taffeta, buckhorn handles, sterling trimmed, $5; other sorts, all good, down to $1; Kid Gloves, tan, castor, English red, $1; pure linen Handkerchief, 15c. to 50c.; handsome Suspenders, prettily boxed, 35c. to $1.50; DeJoinville Prince of Wales, Four-in-hand Ties, exclusive styles just unpacked, 50c.

HOLIDAY RIBBONS.—Ribbons are needed at every turn in gift-making—for fancy work thoughtful fingers are making at home and for tying boxes that hold other gifts. Splendid readiness here for the many needs and such reasonable prices as these. Satin and gros-grain Ribbons of excellent quality, all silk, all widths and colorings. No. 5, 1 in wide, 5c. yd.; No. 7, 1 1/2 in wide, 8c. yd.; No. 9, 1 1/2 in wide, 10c. a yard.

You will find new things that you'd like to have, at prices you can afford to pay, every time you "walk in and look around."

Pork Packing.

[Cincinnati Price Current, November 30th.]

Considerable increase is shown in the market supply of hogs the past week. Western packing indicates a total of 550,000 head, compared with 465,000 head the preceding week, and 485,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was 599,000 head, compared with which there was a decrease of 10,000 head the past week. From November 1st the total is 2,025,000 head, against 2,245,000 head a year ago—a decrease of 220,000 head. The quality of current offerings is generally good. Prices are lower, and at the close the average is about 15c. per 100 pounds below the position a week ago, but 50c. per 100 pounds higher than a year ago.

COTTAGEVILLE.

Once again Thanksgiving has come and gone with its reunions and partings.

The fine fall has given winter wheat an unusual good start.

Considerable tobacco has been stripped and some has been sold at prices ranging from about 5 to 8 cents per pound.

E. C. Henderson was in Cincinnati last week.

M. Sweeney, of Maysville, was here the early part of the week interviewing our farmers about the tobacco trade.

Dr. Marshall, of Columbus, O., was a guest of E. C. Henderson and family recently.

Tom Emmons, young son of Albert Emmons, was accidentally shot in the leg while out with a party of hunters Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. John Weaver is still very sick.

Mr. Brown, traveling salesman of Maysville, was seen upon our streets recently.

John V. Day, of Maysville, spent a few days with friends here last week.

Rev. Maurice Waller preached at Ebenezer Church last Sunday.

EAST LIMESTONE.

The temperature of the weather stood at 25° Monday morning.

The beautiful autumn weather terminated Sunday in a genuine snow storm.

Hog killing which began last week still continues in progress. Hogs are finely fattened.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Williams gave a social Thanksgiving night in honor of Covington guests.

Albert Kidder and father, Alonzo Kidder, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday with the family of Henry Williams.

Miss Trimble has the care of the school at Barnard during the absence of Miss Nelson on her Thanksgiving visit.

Young Master Dressel, of the Sixth ward, was a guest Sunday of Robble and Davie Williams, former school mates.

Mrs. Robert H. Williams sent a large basket of delicious eatables as a Thanksgiving present to her brother, Samuel Thornton, of Covington, who is in very poor health. Mr. Thornton was a former citizen of Maysville.

Wm. Ensor, late of the West, who is spending the winter with his brother, James Ensor, of Plumville, spent Sunday with the family of Mr. Margaret Williams. Mr. Ensor was a citizen of this neighborhood about 30 years ago.

Mrs. R. H. Williams gave an elegant Thanksgiving dinner Thursday in honor of her guests, Geo. Kalb and friend, Miss Teameyer, of Covington. Two large, brown, crisp turkeys, fresh from th range, graced the table, together with several delicious cakes, celery, fruits and other delicacies of the season, prepared in a skillful style under the superintendency of the host and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Geo. C. Williams.

Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time." Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, has its own charm and beauty. Many women dread that period when they must experience change of life. They fear that face and form may suffer by the change, and that they may fail to please those whom they love. The value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in this crisis of woman's life lies in the fact that it assists nature. Its use preserves the balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for the help and comfort given by "Favorite Prescription" in this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent and conduce to mental happiness as well as physical strength.

The Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company in its circular for the week has the following:

A though the week was curtailed by Thanksgiving Day, making only two sale days, Tuesday and Wednesday, the market made up in price what it lost in time. Certainly the sales were more satisfactory than they have been for quite a while and the improvement in price was shared principally by that grade of tobacco which needed it the most, namely, the goods selling at 10 cents and above. We think there was an advance of from 1 to 2 cents. The light offerings may have had something to do with it, but it seems that these best grades are always subject to most variations and it almost appears that, whatever may be the case with the other kinds, these goods are taken only to supply immediate needs.

The offerings of new are growing from week to week and the orders for the same are plentiful. There is always full competition. The highest price reached thus far was 14¢ at the Bodmann Warehouse on Tuesday.
